

Pitirim Sorokin – Nikolai Kondratieff International Institute

Yakovets Yu.V., Dr.Sc. (Economics), Professor, RANS and IGRA

The Eurasian Civilization: Historical Roots, Stages of Development, and Revival Strategy

A Scientific Report

Moscow

SKII

2016

Yakovets Yu.V. The Eurasian Civilization: Historical Roots, Stages of Development, and Revival Strategy. A Scientific Report. M.: SKII, 2016. — 72 p.

The Eurasian civilization as a result of the deep crisis has faced the alternative to complete the collapse or revive in the new format. The report of the founder and leader of modern civilization school Professor Yu.V. Yakovets reveals its features and multiplicity of historical roots of the origin of the Eurasian civilization, its ups and downs. It discloses the factors and the effects of the present crisis, the future scenarios and outlines the system of strategic priorities for revival in line with the establishment of an integral, humanistic noospheric civilization and multi-polar world order based on dialogue and partnership of civilizations and states.

The report is intended for the public and political figures, scientists and faculty members, and leaders of the new generation.

© Yakovets Yu.V., 2016

© Pitirim Sorokin – Nikolai Kondratieff International Institute, 2016

CONTENTS

Foreword. The Eurasian Civilization is at the Crossroads

Chapter 1. The Historical Roots and Distinctive Features of the Eurasian Civilization

- 1.1. The Greek Roots of the Eurasian Civilization. The Bosphorus Kingdom
- 1.2. Western European Influence on the Eastern Slavic Civilization. Novgorodian-Kievan Rus
- 1.3. Eastern and Muslim Influence
- 1.4. The Indigenous Peoples of the North and Siberia
- 1.5. Distinctive Features of the Eurasian Civilization

Chapter 2. The Thorny Path of the Eurasian Civilization

- 2.1. Civilizational Cycles and Crises in the Eurasian Space
- 2.2. Factors and Consequences of Civilizational Catastrophe of the Late 20th - early 21st Centuries
- 2.3. Scenarios of the Future of the Eurasian civilization

Chapter 3. Strategic Priorities for the Revival of the Eurasian Civilization

- 3.1. System of Goals for the Revival Strategy of the Eurasian Civilization
- 3.2. Saving People, Overcoming Depopulation, and Optimization of Migration
- 3.3. The Eurasian Energy and Agri-Ecological Strategies
- 3.4. Innovation and Technological Breakthrough and Increase of Competitiveness
- 3.5. The Establishment of Planned and Market Mixed Economy and an Active Structural Policy
- 3.6. Priority Development of Science and Education

Chapter 4. Socio-Political and Geopolitical Conditions of the Revival of the Eurasian Civilization

- 4.1. The Consolidation of the Integration Social Forces
- 4.2. Strengthening and Expanding the Competences of the Eurasian Economic Union
- 4.3. Resuscitation and Revitalization of the CIS.
- 4.4. The Interrelation with the BRICS, SCO, the Silk Road Economic Belt
- 4.5. Mutually Beneficial Partnership of the EAEU with the European Union

Afterword

References